mended for a commission when he was captured.

He was discharged from the army July 5, 1865, and came back to this city, where he got work at the navy yard. In 1866 he was appointed to the police department, and some time after was promoted to deputy chief. In 1884 he took the position of captain of the watch at the navy yard, which he held until 1895, when he was appointed chief of police.

He has sat in the common council and later as alderman. He served as state senator in the legislatures of 1906, 1907 and 1909, being elected each time by a large majority. He is first vice president of the New England Chiefs of Police Association.

Mrs. Entwistle was Elvira S. Dyer, and she was born in this city July 6, 1842 and was the daughter of Ezekiel and Eliza Dyer. They have four children living.

The living children are Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith, Mrs. Walter Tufts and Miss Maud Isabel Entwistle, and one son, William T. Entwistle. There are five grandchildren.

Both Mr. Entwistle and his wife are members of St. John's Episcopal church. In politics Mr. Entwistle has been a staunch republican and has served the city as selectman, councilman, alderman, and has twice represented the 24th district in the state senate. He is a member of St. John's lodge, No. 1, A. F. A. M., a charter member of Osgood lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., and an active member of Storer post, No. 1, G. A. R.

NEW HAMPSHIRE JUNIOR O. U. A. M.

Concord, Oct. 12.—The annual convention of the New Hampshire council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, will be held in this city today. About 150 delegates are expected. Many arrived here last evening, and at a late hour a banquet was served to the guests in Pilgrim hall where the important proceedings of Wednesday will occur.

The banquet was in the nature of a pleasant welcome to the city for the delegates, who were extended warm words of greeting in the course of informal remarks by a few after-dinner speakers.

There are now about thirty-five councils of the Junior Order in New Hampshire, and it is anticipated that propositions for the organization of a number of additional branches will be considered at tomorrow's business session.

The present officers of the New Hampshire council are: State councilor, John H. Noyes, Plaistow; vice councilor, Adin S. Little, Hampstead; junior past councilor, Addison G. Jewell, Concord; secretary, William J. Randolph, Plymouth; treasurer, Alvin S. Sanborn, Sandown; conductor, Walter J. Knowles, Seabrook; warden, Ernest J. Stone, Barrington; inside sentinel, Frank M. Morse, Chester; outside sentinel, R. J. Blaisdell, East Tilton; chaplain, E. E. Wiggins, Barrington.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit of using people's suppositories.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root. series of thrilling and interesting experiences both in the air and in the auto.

At the conclusion of his lecture he earnestly suggested that an aero club be formed by the members of the Calumet and that it be known as the Aero Club of New Hampshire. This suggestion was heartily endorsed by the members present and before the evening was brought to a close a large number of names were subscribed to an agreement to associate themselves together for this purpose.

Among those who signed were the following: Halbert N. Bond, Eugene E. Reed, R. W. Pillsbury, W. G. Africa, Charles C. Hayes, Frank V. Cooke, Norman H. Dillingham, Edward H. Allen, M. P. Moore, H. L. Lamprey, William J. Phinney, A. H. Crafts, E. J. MacDonald, I. B. James, Eustace C. Fitz, G. B. Jones, A. J. Reed, F. A. Wallace, H. J. Rock, Charles A. Shannon, W. H. Topping, Charles T. ### AT DARTMOUTH

The entire practice of the Dartmouth football squad Tuesday afternoon was held behind closed gates. All the varsity men were on the field, except Greenwood, Ingersoll, Sherwin and Bankart, who will be given a day or more in which to rest up for Saturday's game.

The coaches are working more than hard this week, as they are fearful of the result of next Saturday's game with Williams. In order to stiffen the defensive work of the whole team coaches Lillard and Randall gave the men a thorough grill on the tackling dummy, with the line men hugging the ellipses.

The first and freshman teams had a long period of play, but neither side scored. The scrimmage was to help develop an effective defense, which at present is none too strong, a Needham coach believes they have found the key to the solution of the center problem. What the coaches hold as the most promising thing about it is that Needham is a thorough football man, although a little green in his position.

The first team line-up Tuesday was: Fullback, Palmer H. Tobin Jr., Needham; End, Parnum R. Lang Jr., Dodge; Guard, Brady G. Smith III, Ryan R. Marks Jr.

"CAUSE UNKNOWN"

Biddeford Officers Report on the Hotel Tennessee Fire

Biddeford, Me., Oct. 13.—The municipal officers who held an investigation to determine the origin of the fire which destroyed hotel Tennessee and the cottage of Dr. Caleb J. Emery, at Fortunate's Rocks, last Thursday, have reported a verdict of "cause unknown."

A large number of witnesses were examined during the hearing. No evidence was introduced that threw much light on the origin of the blaze. The investigation was held at the request of Charles V. Tanner, proprietor of the hotel.

FOR MULLINS MURDER

Peter C. Delaney of Somerville and James Manly of Manchester, N. H., charged with murdering Annie Mullins in Squires Road, Arlington, on March 27, 1908, will be tried in the superior court at East Cambridge, Nov. 3.

Judge Fox of Cambridge and Judge White of Taunton have been assigned to preside at the trial.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

Helen Grayce All Next Week

The appearance of Miss Helen Grayce and her company at Music Hall all of next week means one of the most enjoyable engagements of the entire season. Never before in the history of local theatricians have so many fine plays been offered by a single star or company. The fact that the management promises complete and perfect representations lends additional attractiveness to the appearance of the organization. No less a drama than "When We Were Twenty-One" will commence the engagement. "In the Palace of the King," the delightful romantic play made famous by Alva Allen, will be the offering of the first acceptance trials. These acceptance trials will be made under the supervision of an official trial board, but be an eminently successful social event. The interior of the church was prettily decorated with ferns, autumn leaves, cut flowers and potted plants.

THE COLLIER HECTOR

Will Have Her Official Acceptance Trials Very Soon

Washington, Oct. 13.—The new steel collier Hector, built at the works of the Maryland Steel Company for the navy, has left the yards of her builders at Sparrow's Point, Md., and is at Norfolk, where she will take aboard 7,200 tons of coal preparatory to going to the Delaware breakwater to undergo her official acceptance trials. These acceptance trials will be made under the supervision of an official trial board, but will be followed by "The Tons of the Town" and Julia Marlowe's great success, "The House of a Thousand Camels." It is interesting to note that Miss Grayce and her company is the only real example of a large city stock combination traveling. She and her players rank with the permanently located organizations at New York or Boston as the various members have been culled from the companies in these cities.

Six matinees and six evening plays. The first team line-up Tuesday was: Fullback, Palmer H. Tobin Jr., Needham; End, Parnum R. Lang Jr., Dodge; Guard, Brady G. Smith III, Ryan R. Marks Jr.

FAREWELL TO PASTOR

Pittsfield, Oct. 13.—Rev. G. M. Remick, who has been the popular pastor of the Free Baptist church here for a number of years, and who has resigned to accept a pastorate at Bath, Me., with Mrs. Remick, was station, where the soldier, who seemed to have caused the trouble was church and society last evening, in detached and the Italian allowed to go home.

A soldier and an Italian got into a mixup on Van-Allen street last evening, and the soldier got the worst of the game. Both were taken to the station, where the soldier, who seemed to have caused the trouble was church and society last evening, in detached and the Italian allowed to go home.

State Assembly Meets at Manchester

Manchester, Oct. 13.—More than 200 strong, the past presidents and delegates from subordinate and Rebekah lodges in New Hampshire, met in Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday for the fifteenth annual assembly which is being held Tuesday and Wednesday in connection with the meeting of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows on Wednesday.

The large assembly hall was crowded to its capacity with the women attending and all were clad in their full regalia of rank and standing in the order. President Miss Murtie A. Smith of Sunapee called the gathering to order, and after prayer by Chaplain Bertha Prow, the work of the opening session was taken up and occupied the remainder of the morning.

The grand master of the Grand lodge of the Odd Fellows of New Hampshire, Charles U. Cunney of Dover, and Grand Representative Pike of Lisbon, together with seventy-two delegates from the subordinate lodges of the state took the assembly degree entitling them to membership in the Grand lodge of Rebekahs.

President Smith called the assembly to business promptly at 2:30 p. m., and introduced Grand Representative Ernest Craig of Woodsville, who gave an extended account of the meeting of the Sovereign Grand lodge and the orders and changes made in the ritual and secret work of the order. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Craig pointed out that in the last year the Rebekahs of New Hampshire made a gain of over 300 members and that two new lodges were instituted.

Grand Representative Charles W. Emerson of Milford also gave an account of the proceedings of the Sovereign Grand lodge.

Grand Patriarch Munsey of Suncook, after being introduced to the assembly, made brief remarks of interest to the grand of the order.

The reports of the various officers were then called for and the treasurer Mrs. Addie E. Courser, was the first to respond. In general Mrs. Courser showed that the finances of the order were in a better shape than at the last convention, but there are a few departments in which the account has been overdrawn. The "orphans' fund gave particular satisfaction to the ladies, as there is at present a balance to the credit of its fund of $4295.47. In the general fund, after all bills for the fiscal year have been paid, there remains a balance of $703.15.

The reports of the vice president, warden and secretary were also read and approved, and in the opinion of those respective officers as shown by their documents, the New Hampshire Rebekahs are in the most flourishing and prosperous state in their history.

The last thing on the afternoon's program was President Smith's report, which called forth unbounded applause, and as stated by one of the prominent past presidents, "was the best that I ever remember hearing."

After commenting upon the excellence of the work as given in many of the lodges, stating that "perfection is not too high a standard to seek," he says:

"In about half the lodges of the state there is a custom, regrettable to me, for the officers to surrender their chairs at initiation to a so-called permanent staff. Perhaps during the almost forty years of our existence there is some one past no grand who has the ability to deliver the noble grand's charge better than any other. That seems a poor reason for having her to do it every year. It seems to me that if the officers of the lodge do the work of their office to the best of their ability, it will hold the interest of the members much better. I wish you would think it over and talk it over in the lodge."

Miss Smith is a staunch advocate of the I. O. O. F. home, and urges every support to be given to the Rebekahs.

Last evening at 8 o'clock over 1000 members of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows of the state were in Mechanic's hall for the exemplification of the degree work by the team from Esther lodge, No. 9, of Laconia.

YVETTE GUILBERT'S NEWEST SONG

Yvette Guilbert, who has made a wonderful success singing on the vaudeville stage, has a new song "Marie," which is making a pronounced hit. ### A PARADE IN WASHINGTON

Twenty Thousand Men and Women
Turn Out in Honor of Labor Leader—National Guard Not Allowed to Participate—Justice Wright Charged With Being Prejudiced Against the Laboring Class

Washington, Oct. 13.—Organized labor, representing many parts of this country, Canada and even Cuba, paid a notable tribute last night in this city on the occasion of his home-coming from Europe to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. It probably was the most enthusiastic demonstration ever accorded an American labor leader.

There was a "monster parade," followed later by a big mass meeting. Estimates of the number of men and women who participated in the parade ran as high as 20,000.

Pennsylvania avenue was thronged with thousands of spectators who observed the procession. With thousands of the marchers carrying torches, with handsomely decorated floats, representing some labor body and the waving of innumerable American flags, the scene presented was picturesque to the extreme.

To the accompaniment of music of bands and headed by Gompers, the parade moved up Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth and G streets, where a halt was made to enable Gompers and other labor leaders to ascend the balcony of a hotel to review the marchers. Fully two hours was occupied by them in watching the parade. The pageant then turned into New York avenue and proceeded eastward to Convention hall, where the mass meeting was held, and there it was disbanded.

An incident in connection with the parade which occasioned considerable discussion and comment was the action of a company of the National Guard of the District of Columbia to participate. Although the Central Labor union had placed itself on record as favoring the guardsmen taking part, there was some opposition among the delegates to the meeting, who took the ground, it is said, that the organized militia of the country was used only to "shoot down strikers and union men."

It was thought that the matter was settled, but yesterday a protest was lodged with Secretary Morrison of the Federation against the action of the Central Labor union. He immediately communicated with Gompers, who at the time was in Baltimore en route here, and the latter directed that the guardsmen should not parade.

After being received with great acclaim in Convention hall Gompers, in no uncertain words, hurled defiance at any power that would dare attempt to curtail his right of free speech or the freedom of the press. He also told of his visit abroad and expressed confidence in the formation of a world-wide confederation of all labor organizations.

Finally, referring to the jail sentence resting against him on a charge of contempt of court, Gompers said that Justice Wright had decided the contempt case against him because he was prejudiced against men that work.

Gompers then expressed his respect for courts in general. "I have confidence in their integrity," he declared, "no matter what their decision may be. But I know that they are men, human beings, who are just as likely to err as any other man on earth. I have no hesitancy in saying that not only did Justice Wright err, but that he was prejudiced against the men of labor."

This statement was greeted by rounds of applause.

IS SPEEDING EASTWARD

President Spends Many Hours in California Orange Districts

Riverside, Cal., Oct. 13.—After spending eight days in California, President Taft left here late last night. His way leads him for a time below the level of the sea and today finds the chief executive in Arizona.

The president spent much of Tuesday in the famous orange districts surrounding Los Angeles, driving for miles through the groves at Riverside. Altogether he did more than fifty miles by automobile Tuesday.

Higgen For Mayor of Albany
Albany, Oct. 13.—George C. Higgen was nominated today for mayor of Albany by the Democrats. He also will be the candidate of an independent movement. His brother, Thomas L. Higgen, was the Independent League candidate for president in 1905.

Damage Figures Reduced
Hawaii, Oct. 13.—The effects of the cyclone appear to have been considerably less serious than at first supposed. Careful estimates of the damage indicate that the loss will not exceed $500,000.

NO LIBEL COMMITTED

Judge Anderson Dismisses Proceedings Against Smith and Williams
Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Judge Anderson of the United States court of this district dismissed the proceedings against Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of the "Indianapolis News," who were resisting removal to the District of Columbia for trial under the grand jury indictment charging them with having committed criminal libel in publishing articles alleging that there was a corrupt profit of $28,000,000 in the sale of the Panama canal to the United States.

"I am of the opinion," said Judge Anderson, "that the fact that certain persons were called 'thieves' and 'swindlers' does not constitute libel per se. A newspaper has a certain duty to perform. As a former president has said, 'It is the duty of a newspaper to print the news and to tell the truth about it.' It is the duty of a newspaper to draw inferences for the people."

AN UNEXPECTED RAID

Guardians of the Law Make Spectacular Descent on Bookmakers

New York, Oct. 13.—A fresh chapter in Governor Hughes' anti-race track gambling crusade, which resulted recently in indictments against the Brooklyn Jockey club and Coney Island Jockey club, operating the Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay tracks, resulted in twelve arrests at the first day's racing on the Jamaica track.

A squad of mounted police and a small army of detectives were on hand, and when the laying of odds was in full blast for the third race they swooped down on the betting ring and gathered in the men, several of them said to be bookmakers of national reputation. All were charged with violating that section of the penal code which forbids the making or recording of bets.

The men arrested were immediately arraigned and bail was accepted for all.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO FIGHT DRAPER

Labor Men Take Usual Action
Against the Governor

Holyoke, Mass., Oct. 13.—The resolutions condemning Governor Draper for his stand on labor measures, which have annually been adopted by the Massachusetts branch, American Federation of Labor, at its state conventions, were reiterated at Tuesday's meetings. Draper's veto of the eight-hour bill, in particular, is noted.

The convention also voted to make an appeal for funds to further a political campaign during the present fall "in an effort to defeat Eben S. Draper and all others directly opposed to organized labor." The convention also recommended "Remember the eight-hour bill" as labor's slogan in the campaign.

SHORTAGE NEAR $400,000

Widows and Orphans Lose by Failure of a Wisconsin Bank

Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 13.—A more serious aspect developed in the failure of the First National bank here yesterday, it being reported that the shortage will run close to $400,000. Vice President Allen is said to have lost heavily in California and Montana mining investments. Worthless notes, it is alleged, poured into the bank yesterday, and widows and orphans are said to have been hard hit, as Allen acted as administrator of many estates.

Allen, for years a victim of pauperism, is seriously ill at his home. The city is noticeably quiet in the face of a calamity which affects a large proportion of the community.

The manner in which the bank was defrauded, it is alleged, was by the substitution of notes in the forged names of local business men for negotiable securities.

WOMEN HUSTLE FOR VOTES

Succeed in Getting Great Crowd to Exercise Their Franchise

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Women's suffrage had a test here when the women of the village worked at the polls all day at the annual school election, distributing tickets on the streets, escorting parties to the polls in automobiles and carriages, acting as "poll drivers" and voting by the hundreds.

As a result of their efforts nearly 4000 votes were cast, the largest in the history of the village. As the "suffragettes" were divided in their support of the candidates the result furnished no indication of their individual ability as vote-getters.

Plot Against Yukon Fair
Seattle, Oct. 13.—Charged with being organized into a syndicate with some of their superiors to steal money taken in at the gates, every gatekeeper of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition was discharged. According to The Times, $28,000 had been accumulated and placed in bank to be divided later.

TORSO FOUND IN UNDERBRUSH

Search Continues For Other Parts of Woman's Body
MYSTERY IS NOT SOLVED

Finding of Head of Young Woman
Who Was Cut Up With Hand Saw
Would Greatly Aid Authorities in Their Investigation—Name in Traveling Bag Which Contained Legs Is Not Clearly Deciphered

Tiverton, R. I., Oct. 13.—Although added evidence of the fact that a murder had been committed was found Tuesday afternoon in the locating of the torso of the young woman whose legs were found Monday in the underbrush adjoining Bulgermarsh road, the police are still without a clue as to the identity of the victim or of those responsible.

Deduction, however, has led them to look to Fall River, or possibly Tiverton, as the scene of the crime, rather than to New Bedford. The pencil-written name and address "Frank Hill (1), Pleasant street, Fall River," appeared on the inside of the cover of the traveling bag, the lower part of which contained the severed limbs found Monday. Inquiry at Fall River, appeared on the inside of the connection with the crime to the two men of that name in the city, neither of whom lives on Pleasant street.

The addition of the torso to the other parts of the body leaves missing only the head, the arms and the right leg from the knee down. From the partial body a suppositious young woman is described as the victim, as follows: About five feet in height, about 20 years old, fairly well developed, dark brown hair, size 3 feet, and probably a mill operative, with clear skin.

The discovery of the head would undoubtedly lead to an identification. To this end the local police today organized a posse of searchers which will closely scour the underbrush and thickets in the vicinity of Stafford and Fish roads, which run at right angles with Bulgermarsh road.

The torso was discovered by James B. Monroe, one of the searchers, who was led to the spot by the barking of his dog. The shoulders and hips bore signs of the same severing process as shown on the legs. This was evidently a hand saw.

The torso was found about 500 yards west of the footpath near which the limbs were discovered. The cover of the traveling bag was found about fifty yards east of the footpath. The torso, unlike the other articles, was about twenty feet back from the road. It had been supposed that the several parts of the body might have been thrown from a passing vehicle, but the torso could not have been so thrown. Therefore, the person who sought to hide it must have carried it.

To the police have come many stories of missing young women throughout New England and one from New York; of several automobiles seen in the vicinity of the findings on Sunday afternoon, and of men with suitcases in the same place. None are sufficiently pointed, however, to aid materially as a clue, and a few were disproved as possibilities.

Whether the name on the suitcase is "Frank Hill" is uncertain, although generally accepted, because the final "l" is impossible of clear deciphering.

CORONER WAS CORRECT

Upheld in Dispute With Commander of German Warship

New York, Oct. 13.—Coroner Harburger and the commanding officer of the German cruiser Hertha clashed on a question of international law.

The coroner held that international law does not prohibit him from exercising the duties of his office aboard a warship anchored in the Hudson, and he accordingly went aboard the Hertha to view the body of William Schmidt, a sailor, 17 years old, who had been killed while the vessel was coaling, his body being crushed under a sack of coal.

The commanding officer of the cruiser resented the coroner's action. The coroner finally viewed the body, however, and later the German consul upheld his action.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Mrs. Sarah Morris, widow of Nelson Morris, Chicago packing house magnate, who died as the result of an automobile accident, left bequests of nearly $400,000 to charitable institutions.

At the annual meeting of the board of managers of Haverford college it was announced that $100,000 had been contributed to a fund for the purpose of pensioning retired professors.

Frank B. Connolly of the customs office at Boston has been designated as acting deputy collector at Boston by promotion.

Assessment of 20 percent ad valorem duty on fur clippings or cuttings, if suitable for use as trimmings or for sewing together for making garments, is directed by the treasury department.

DEATH SENTENCE STANDS

Ferrer Must Pay Penalty For Leading Revolution in Spain

Madrid, Oct. 13.—The cabinet has completed its examination of the papers in the case of Francisco Ferrer, the revolutionary leader, who has been condemned to death at Barcelona, but its decision has not yet been made public. It is understood, however, that the death sentence has been confirmed and that the government has refused all clemency.

Rome, Oct. 13.—In Rome and in various other leading towns of Italy demonstrations occurred Tuesday in protest against the condemnation of Francisco Ferrer. Twenty thousand workmen gathered in this city and after violently denouncing Spain and the action of the Spanish government against Ferrer, directed their attention to the Spanish embassies. Troops and police were compelled to charge the crowd, some persons on both sides being slightly wounded. A large number of arrests were made.

OFF FOR LONG JOURNEY

Balloon Starting From St. Louis Is Expected to Land in Canada

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—In an effort to exceed all American balloon records for distance and win the Luhn cup, A. H. Forbes and Max Fleischer sailed away from St. Louis in the balloon New York at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The big gas bag went directly east. Ballast amounting to 2000 pounds was in the basket.

Forbes, the pilot, who is acting president of the Aero Club of America, expects to land in Canada in the vicinity of the St. Lawrence valley. The balloon, according to the weather observer, will cross one of the great lakes. Life preservers, water anchors, rifles and heavy clothing are among the paraphernalia in the basket.

M'HARG WILL FINISH OUT THIS MONTH

President Finds Difficulty in Appointing a Successor

Washington, Oct. 13.—Ormsby M'Harg, the assistant secretary of the department of commerce and labor, who was to have left office Oct. 1, has promised to stay on until the end of the month.

ORMSBY M'HARG.

President Taft, it seems, is having some difficulty in finding the sort of man for the place he would like to appoint. It seems to be definitely settled that the position is to go to a middle east lawyer, who will be in sympathy with the manufacturing interests of the country. The place has been offered to two or three persons of this character, and has been declined.

A good deal of care is being exercised in selecting a man because of the likelihood of the new assistant secretary becoming the head of the department within the next two years.

PELLETIER RESIGNS OFFICE

Leaves Civil Service Commission to Run For District Attorney

Boston, Oct. 13.—The resignation of Joseph C. Pelletier as a member of the Massachusetts civil service commission was received and accepted last night by Governor Draper.

In a communication to the governor, Pelletier stated that he had accepted the nomination of district attorney of Suffolk county at the hands of the Democratic party and he felt that he should resign his place upon the commission to avoid any possible criticism or conflict of work. The governor agreed with Pelletier that it would be best to relinquish the office.

FOUR KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Dallas, Oct. 13.—Four persons were killed, one man was fatally injured and a score of others were hurt near Greenville when a passenger train carrying a crowd of carnival people to the Dallas state fair ran into a freight train.

Thieves Carry Off Dynamite
Stockholm, Oct. 13.—An enormous quantity of dynamite was stolen last night from a storehouse used by rock blasters. Anarchists are believed to have carried off the explosives.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Oct. 13.—Police Commissioner Bert Wentworth, accompanied by Mr. Bennett, the well known Greek interpreter and teacher in this evening school, went to Concord on Tuesday, having in custody a young Greek who was insane, having become infatuated with an American girl here to the result above stated. The young man who was quite well Ameliorized, and who wore good clothes, has been acting queerly of late, and was continually talking of the girl. He left his windows open nightly in the hope that she would come to him either by form or spirit, and at last physicians were called to examine his mental condition, they pronouncing him insane.

The body of Martin W. B. Clark was brought to this city Tuesday from Framingham, Mass., for burial in Pine Hill. The dead man was a former well known resident here. Committal services were read at the grave by Rev. E. W. Pond, pastor of the First Congregational church.

A man whose identity is unknown, but who is described as being about 5 feet, 5-1/2 inches in height, slender build, young and smooth shaven, did a queer act Monday afternoon. He went to the house of Israel Noel at 15 New York street, and opening the front door walked boldly up stairs to Mr. Noel's room, and upon arriving there removed a suit which he had on and appropriated one belonging to Mr. Noel, also his watch. Then he walked coolly out the way he came, and nothing has been heard of him since. He made no attempt to sneak in, and was seen by a lady across the street, but she supposing that it was a member of the family, did not attach any suspicion to him. The funny part of his work was that he left his suit, which was a very good one, and almost better than the one stolen. The suit taken was a brown colored one with a green stripe. The man, it is thought, must have been either under the influence of liquor to some extent, or else he was determined to do what he did in the way he did.

Fred Greenier was arrested on a warrant for an assault committed on Peter Jordan, Sept. 28. The two men were mixed up in a street fight, and Greenier was charged to be the aggressor. In court he pleaded guilty, and was fined $7.62. A peace bond of $100 for six months was suspended during good behavior. Martin Maherty, who was arrested by Officer Young for drunkenness, and who was allowed a personal bail of $25 to warrant his appearance in police court, appeared in court somewhat under the influence of liquor. In view of this fact he was fined $10 for contempt of court, and on the drunk charge was fined $15.62, so that the total which he owed up was $25.62.

Assistant Marshal Thomas W. Wilkinson and wife left for Boston, where they will embark on either the Yale or Harvard steamer for Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson will be gone ten days, and during that time will visit places of historical interest in Wilmington, Mt. Vernon, Philadelphia and New York. One of the way back they expect to meet their son, J. Frederick Wilkinson, who is chief machinist's mate on the scout cruiser Chester, which is at present stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard.

One of the earliest and most successful social events of the season took place Tuesday evening at American hall, when the Fr. Matthew C. T. A. society held its eighteenth annual anniversary dance. Among the large number present were guests from Somersworth, Salmon Falls, South Berwick, Eliot, Rochester, Dover Point and Portsmouth. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of P. H. McLin, James O'Neill, Terrance O'Neill, Edward Connolly, James Connors and Robert Lilly.

CALLED A MINISTER

Nashua, Oct. 13.—The Hudson Baptist church has extended a call to Rev. Walter Anderson to take the pulpit on the resignation of Rev. C. B. Upton. Mr. Anderson's home is Canada, but he is at present visiting the home of Marcell Smith in Hudson.

MORSE BREAKS DOWN

No Encouragement From Court on the Question of Bail

New York, Oct. 13.—Charles W. Morse, the financier, was taken suddenly ill in the Tombs prison and after spending a restless night was visited by the prison physician, who administered a sleeping potion. The illness is said to be a nervous breakdown, following the failure of Morse's effort to obtain an appeal from his fifteen-year sentence.

Morse's counsel, Martin W. Littleton, had an informal talk with Judges Lacombe, Cuxie and Ward of the United States court of appeals. He inquired the possibility of his client's release being granted if sufficiently large surety was furnished.

The justices informed him that it was not the practice of their court to grant a prisoner's release on bail pending a review of its decision by the United States supreme court on a writ of certiorari. They did not intimate that any exception might be made in the case because of the prisoner's reported breakdown.

MULLIN'S MIGHTY WORK

Has Pittsburgh Completely at His Mercy in Championship Game

Detroit, Oct. 13.—Detroit defeated Pittsburgh, 5 to 0, Tuesday, and evened up the count in the world's championship series, each team now having two victories to its credit.

The American league champions outclassed their rivals in every department of the game. It is hard to conceive of any pitcher having his opponents more at his mercy than Mullin had Pittsburgh. There was never a moment when he was not the absolute master of the situation.

Mullin struck out the mighty Wagner, with two out and men on second and third, and just previously he had struck out Clarke, a hard hitter, with men on first and second. A double steal on Clarke's third strike moved the men to second and third, where they died with Wagner. Lelfield also struck out in this same inning, giving Mullin three strikeouts in one session. All told, he struck out ten men.

ESKIMOS WILL PROVE HIS CLAIMS

What Cook Has to Say o
Statement by Peary

Cleveland, Oct. 13.—"It is the same old story," said Dr. Cook, when he was shown the statement issued by Commander Peary, together with the map accompanying it.

"I have replied to the points raised a dozen times," he continued. "The map published by Peary in itself indicates that the Eskimos have respected their promise made to me that they would not give any information to Peary or his men."

"The Eskimos were instructed not to tell Peary, or any of his party, of our trip over the Polar sea. They were told to say we had been far north. They have kept their word."

"I will not enter into any argument about the matter, but I will bring the Eskimos to New York at my own expense and they will prove, as did Mr. Whitney, all that I have claimed."

Dr. Cook would not consent to go over the details contained in Peary's statements any further than this. "The Eskimos," he said, "are only too willing to say something that they think will please their questioners."

EARLY WINTER WEATHER

Snow and Freezing Weather in Middle West and Northwest

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A severe cold wave, following in the track of a violent storm which raged over the Lake Superior region, caused widespread suffering and much damage throughout the middle west and northwest.

Heavy snowfalls for this season of the year occurred in northern Illinois, southern Michigan, Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa. In some places the fall was five to six inches.

It is reported from various points in the Mississippi valley that many acres of grapes and much other fruit has been ruined by the frost, the mercury in many places going as low as 20 to 24 above zero.

To Become a "Souvenir"

New York, Oct. 13.—The Clermont, reproduction of Robert Fulton's first steamboat, ended her brief but brilliant career as a Hudson river boat with her arrival here last night. The steamer will probably be removed shortly to one of the ponds in Central park as an object of historical interest.

Whirled to Death

Gulfport, Me., Oct. 13.—Hardley Chase, 23 years old, an operative in the Piscataquis Woolen company's mill, was instantly killed when he was caught in a shaft and thrown against a wall.

A NEW MAGAZINE

The Boston Chamber of Commerce has just issued No. 1 of Vol. 1 of "Chamber of Commerce Journal," a monthly magazine devoted to the commerce, industry and public interests of Boston and of New England.

There has long existed a need for a publication to occupy the field, which this magazine essays to fill. The business men of New England need a publication which will keep them informed on the business opportunities of New England and also keep them informed in regards to hindrances in development.

It is a question whether this work can be best done by a magazine issued at such long distance intervals as once each month, but possibly it can.

Portsmouth business interests will be well served and the development of our harbor facilitated if the big business men of New England know of the chances here. Let us hope that the new magazine will not try to "hog" everything for Boston but will try to help the rest of New England a little and that Portsmouth gets its due share.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Advice to King George

News comes this week from across the big pond that King George of Greece is weary of wearing the crown and threatening to quit the throne and retire to private life. If King George is really sick of his job and anxious to resign, he should immediately consult with George Moses of New Hampshire, United States minister to Greece, who can be safely depended upon to dig up a half a dozen candidates for the throne at short notice, and Moses can probably also arrange for the voice of the people to unite upon the final selection of any particular candidate desired.—Lancaster Democrat.

A CONNECTICUT NUISANCE

Automobilist Who Deliberately Fills a Town with Street Dust

South Norwalk, Conn., Oct. 12.—The police and public of Darien are up in arms over the actions of a New York automobilist, who, they claim, is the meanest man on earth.

This automobilist, believed to have been a one-time victim of an anti-race crusade, apparently is seeking revenge. Each time he reaches the town he secures a large hunk of a tree and fastens it to the rear of his machine. With this trailing in the road, he goes a racing through the streets leaving a cloud of dust, which entirely envelops him, and the machine's number, and which leaves the town spluttering and fuming, winking and blinking for some time. Even Rev. H. S. Brown has joined in the protest.

Under the old Connecticut law, Darien had a reputation for arresting speeding automobilists, as many as fifty were caught in a day and fined. The new law allows of no arresting, save in extreme cases, but the police intend to arrest this dust-sender as a common nuisance.

It is surprising the number of callers who come ashore every day in citizens clothes.

TWO DEAD

From the Boiler Explosion At Manchester

Manchester, Oct. 12.—The two worst injured at yesterday's boiler explosion both died before night.

Joseph Lyons was 31 years old, and was born in Block Rock, Ireland. He had been a resident of Manchester for seven years. He is survived by a widow, Ellen Donovan Lyons; one son, James; three daughters, Mary, Catherine and Charlotte; one brother, John, who lives in Ireland; five sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Huff and Mrs. Quimby of this city. The other three sisters live in England. Mr. Lyons was a member of St. Raphael's church of Division 7, A. O. H., and of the Firemen's union.

Edgar B. Harrington was 36 years of age and leaves a widow and two small children. He was a native of Stratford, Vt., and had lived in Manchester about eighteen years. He is survived, besides his immediate family, by five brothers, Fred L., Pearl, Ernest and Carl of this city, and Homer Harrington of Oakland, Cal., also two sisters, Mrs. Cora Reed of West Manchester, and Mrs. Lulu Shirley of this city.

The other injured men are James Shea, hands and face burned; will recover. Jeremiah O'Connor, oldest man injured; hands, face and head burned. Emile Dumont, hands and face burned. Oscar LaPlante, head, face and hands burned. Derick Trotter, slightly burned; went home for treatment.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

Claremont, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Maggare Pelton, 46 years old while alone in the house, was horribly burned, about 6.3 o'clock Thursday, her clothing being set on fire by the flames from an exploding kerosene lamp.

Mrs. Pelton, who is the wife of Robert Pelton of 23 River street, had risen early and prepared her husband's breakfast, and after he had left for his work took up the lamp and blew in the chimney to extinguish it. Instantly there was a blinding flash, the explosion scattering the blazing oil over her. The light wrapper and underclothing which she wore was instantly enveloped in flames.

She rushed screaming from the house and to the home of a neighbor Mrs. Mary Cote, who with her children, Mary and Henry, by use of rugs and water succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Mrs. Cote, however, being severely burned about the arms.

Mrs. Pelton's clothing was entirely burned from her body, her hair burned off and her body a mass of burns. In some manner her face escaped the terrible scorching.

Physicians were summoned and the injured woman was removed to the Cottage hospital.

Fire, which had gained some headway in the house, was extinguished by neighbors with slight loss.

A WARNING

Don't Be Humbugged With Cheap, Worthless Imitations

Since its introduction into the United States, the sales of Parisian Sage have been phenomenal. This success has led to many imitations similar in name. Look out for them. See that the girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. You can always get the genuine at Goodwin E. Philbrick's.

Parisian Sage is the quickest acting and most efficient hair tonic in the world.

It is made to conform to Dr. Sangerson's (of Paris) proven theory that dandruff, falling hair, baldness and scalp itch are caused by germs. Parisian Sage kills these dandruff germs and removes all trace of dandruff in two weeks; it stops falling hair and itching scalp and prevents baldness.

And remember that baldness is caused by dandruff germs, these little hard working, persistent devils that day and night do nothing but dig into the roots of the hair and destroy its vitality.

Parisian Sage is a dainty perfume hair dressing; not sticky or greasy, and any woman who desires luxuriant and bewitching hair can get it in two weeks by using it.

Beware of imitations, look for the girl with the Auburn hair on every package. Parisian Sage is now sold by leading druggists all over America, and is guaranteed by Goodwin E. Philbrick to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. Fifty cents a large bottle. Made in America by G. W. M. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., who will fill mail orders, all charges prepaid.

A TIMELY TOPIC

ORISON SWETT MARDEN

In Success Magazine

Keep Fresh.

THE brain that is continually exercised in one's occupation or profession, with little or no change, is not capable of the vigorous, spontaneous action of the brain that gets frequent recreation and change. The man who keeps everlastingly at it, who has little fun or play in his life, usually gets into a rut early in his career, and shrivels and dries up for lack of variety, of mental food and stimulus. Nothing is more beneficial to the mental or physical worker than frequent change—a fresh view-point. Everywhere we see men who have gone to seed early, become rusty and uninteresting, because they worked too much and played too little. Monotony is a great shriveler of ability.

Ambitious workers in vigorous health are apt to apply themselves too closely to their work, and not to take sufficient rest and recreation. But the greatest achievers are not those who are forever grinding away at their work; who, whenever you meet them, never fail to impress it upon you that their time is precious—they must be going, must be on the move.

I know a business man in New York, the head of a large concern, who rarely spends more than two or three hours a day in his office, and is often away months at a time, recreating and traveling refreshing his mind. This man knows the value of play. He resolved early in life always to keep himself fresh and vigorous, in a condition to approach his task with the maximum of power, instead of weakening his faculties and demoralizing his whole system, as many men do, by perpetually grinding away at his work.

The result is that he is making a great success of life. It means something for this dynamic young man to be in his office; things move. He puts them through with tremendous force and rapidity, because he has a surplus of physical stamina. His business system works with mathematical exactness, and he accomplishes more in a few hours than most men who spend eight or nine hours daily in their offices, and take their work home at night, do in a whole day.

It was never intended that man should be a slave to his work, that he should exhaust all his energy in getting a living, and have practically none left for making a life. The time will come when it will be generally acknowledged that it is possible to do more work, and of a better quality, in a much shorter day than our present average working day.

The great majority of people do their work mechanically, and regard it as unavoidable drudgery, whereas all work should be a delight, as it would be if all workers were in the right place and worked only when they were fresh and vigor. Then the exercise of brain and muscle would give a sense of well being, and work would be a tonic, not a grind; life a delight, not a struggle.

Many a man who has made a slave of himself is suffering the tortures of a disappointed, thwarted ambition, simply because he never learned the importance, the imperative necessity, of always maintaining a high mental and physical standard, of always keeping himself fresh, so that he could bring the highest possible percentage of efficiency to his task. The art of arts is that of self refreshment, self renewal, self rejuvenation.

Hughes is expected to appoint his successor soon.

Eczema Now Curable.

DISCOVERY OF A NEW REMEDY FOR SKIN TROUBLES

The discovery by a chemist of the new remedy Cadum is recognized as one of the most important advances in medical circles in recent years. Numerous cures of eczema are reported and the remarkable feature in most cases is the quickness of the cure. Cadum when applied stops the itching at once. In two or three weeks' time complete recovery, from this terrible disease can be expected. It has now been definitely determined that eczema is not a blood disease, but a skin affliction that is common everywhere. It is a disordered condition of the outer skin, which allows the watery part of the blood to exude. This forms scales and sets up an itching. In scratching the scales are torn off, and a red surface is exposed. This is the true eczema. You cannot cure eczema with poisons or lotions or medicated soap. You cannot reach it by taking internal remedies. External treatment is absolutely necessary. Since the discovery of Cadum, a short time ago however, eczema is recognized as a curable disease, and that tormenting affliction has been robbed of its terrors. This new remedy can now be obtained at 10c and 25c per box of all druggists. Cadum is also for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, inflamed skin, boils, itch, ringworm, and piles. In troubles of this kind great relief is often secured after a single application of Cadum.

Number in insular force (Philippines)	541	620	441
Percentage of enlisted force who are U. S. citizens	93.1	95.4	95.7
Percentage native born	32	37	38.4

ON RAILROAD TRACK

Body of Unknown Man Was Found at East Barrington

Rochester, Oct. 13.—The body of an unknown man about 40 years old, was found on the railroad track at East Barrington at 8:10 o'clock Tuesday night on the Worcester, Nashua and Portland division of the Boston and Maine, by a brakeman.

It is supposed that he was struck by train 340, which passes early in the morning. The body had passed over the tracks and was nearly cutting the body in two.

The man was evidently, from his clothes and appearance, a laboring man.

In one of his pockets a card was found bearing the name of C. H. Burns, a lumber man of Hampstead, and it is thought that he might have been on his way there in search of work.

Selectman Davis of East Barrington was notified and in turn communicated with Medical Referee Forrest L. Key of Rochester, who ordered the body removed to this city, where an effort at identification will be made.

James T. Sawyer is Dead

Mrs. William J. Mullen is No More

Woman and Baby Had a Bad Fall Down Stairs

Polander Charged with Letting a Minor Play Pool

Exeter, Oct. 13.—James T. Sawyer, at the age of seventy-three years, six months and twenty-seven days, died at his home on High street, after an illness of about a year with nephritis. Valcular heart trouble, however, was the cause of death. He was born in Camden, Me., March 21, 1836, and at the age of nineteen years went west. At the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion he enlisted with the famous First Minnesota regiment and served for three years, taking part in many engagements. At the expiration of three years' service with this regiment he was transferred to the Veteran Reserve corps at Washington. His record in the service was a creditable one, and he received an honorable discharge at the close of the war. Soon after its close he came to this town where, with the exception of three years, from 1885 to 1888, he resided. He followed the occupation of a stationary engineer, holding positions with the Exeter Manufacturing company, Gale Brothers shoe factory, and for a time in Dover. He was a member of the Moses N. Collins post of the G. A. R., and was at one time its commander; the Masons, affiliating with a Maine lodge and Major Wilbur council, Royal Arcanum, of Dover. He is survived by a widow; two sons, Charles S., a druggist of Boston, and Edward K., an electrician, also of Boston. The funeral services will be held at the home today at 2:30, conducted by Rev. Edward Green, after which the body is to be taken to Bangor, Me., for burial.

Mrs. Della H. Mullen, wife of William J. Mullen, died at her home on Walnut street Monday night, from the result of a paralytic shock. She is survived by a husband, two sons and two daughters, William and George, both of this town, and Mrs. Alice Wentworth of Worcester, Mass., and Teresa of this town.

A session of probate court was held Tuesday. The regular business, which was light, was transacted. The next session is to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Joseph O. Simpson and Francis J. Toplin left on Tuesday for Tampa, Fla., where they are to spend the coming winter.

The high school football eleven will line up against the lower middle school of the academy this afternoon. The high school will select its line-up from Churchill, Light, Locke, Dwyer, Nay, Roode, Sheehy, Houston, French, Robinson, Grunwald, Fifield.

Antonio Veliski, a Polish citizen who keeps a pool room on Water street, was on Tuesday in police court before Judge Shute charged with allowing Charlie White, a lad of 16 years, to play pool in the room. Witnesses present, Officer Beverly S. McGaughey and Andrew S. Irvine, testified that White and several others, who were under the age allotted by the law, were in the room, and they saw him taking part in a game. The lad testified that he indulged in a game, and that he had frequently done so. Veliski showed considerable bad temper and refused to tell his own story after he had expressed his desire to do so. The judge decided that he should be held under $100 bonds for the October term of superior, whereupon the Polish citizen refused to procure bondsmen, or even furnish a cash bail, either of which were easily available, but chose to go to jail.

Mrs. Arthur F. Cooper met with a serious accident by falling down a flight of stairs at the home of L. G. Cilley, and has been in a critical condition since. When about to descend the stairs with a small baby in her arms she tripped in some way and fell to the bottom with the infant. The child was hurled across the room, but fortunately was not injured. Mrs. Cooper was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Cottage hospital, where she has been unconscious for the greater part of the time since. Her husband was absent in the northern part of the state on a hunting trip, and with much difficulty was communicated with.

GAS IN GRAIN STORE

No Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Headache Five Minutes Later

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, Sour Risings, Gas on stomach or Belching of Undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomachs, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Papo's Diapepsin now and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

Jipson was lying on the floor. The rest of the crew thinking something was the matter, began to investigate and found Mr. Jipson lying on the floor unconscious, from which he did not recover for five hours. It is supposed that gas formed under the straw and when Mr. Jipson removed the straw the gas escaped and nearly suffocated them both.

SOLDIER STABBED

Portland, Oct. 13.—Tuesday evening at about 10 o'clock Officers H. D. Johnson and Legault in patrolling their beat found a soldier sitting in a doorway at the foot of Exchange street. There was blood on his uniform and the soldier had been drinking but he told the officer that someone on another street where he had been walking had stabbed him. He was sent to the station and Dr. W. H. Witham called to examine the wound which was found to be a small cut on the right side just below the heart. Dr. Witham at once ordered the man taken to the Maine general hospital fearing that the cut might be more serious than he thought it was.

The soldier wore a military cap indicating membership in the 37th Co., at Fort McKinley and on the hat band were the letters H. P. B. He insisted that his name was Lewis Powers although some one at the station who happened in and saw the man said that his name was Powers. At the hospital he gave the name of Powers.

Powers has been at Fort McKinley for about 19 months, so he said but as to how he was cut or who he had been with during the evening he either could not or would not make any talk.

Sergeant Culy was sent out to investigate the case and later found two caps. He also learned that a soldier had been going about the streets without a cap on and that he had been telling that he had a fight on Union street and that someone had stolen two $10 bills from him. From an examination of the wound made in Powers' side the doctors were of the opinion that the cut was made with a dirk.

PEARY'S EVIDENCE AGAINST COOK

(Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1909, by the Peary Arctic Club, in the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C.)

INTRODUCTION BY PEARY.
Some of my reasons for saying that Dr. Cook did not go to the North Pole will be understood by those who read the following statements of the two Eskimo boys who went with him, and who told me and others of my party where he did go. Several Eskimos who started with Dr. Cook from Anorok in February, 1908, were at Etah when I arrived there in August, 1908. They told me that Dr. Cook had with him, after they left, two Eskimo boys or young men, two sledges and some twenty dogs. The boys were I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah. I had known them from their childhood. One was about eighteen and the other about nineteen years of age.

On my return from Cape Sheridan and at the very first settlement I touched (Nerke, near Cape Chalon) in August, 1908, and nine days before reaching Etah, the Eskimos told me, in a general way, where Dr. Cook had been; that he had wintered in Jones Sound and that he had told the white men at Etah that he had been a long way north, but that the boys who were with him, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, said that this was not so. The Eskimos laughed at Dr. Cook's story. On reaching Etah, I talked with the Eskimo there and with the two boys and asked them to describe Dr. Cook's journey to members of my party and myself. This they did in the manner stated below.

(Signed) R. E. PEARY.

SIGNED STATEMENT OF PEARY, BARTLETT, MCILLAN, BORUP AND HENSON, IN REGARD TO TESTIMONY OF COOK'S TWO ESKIMO BOYS.

The two Eskimo boys, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, who accompanied Dr. Cook while he was away from Anorok in 1908 and 1909, were questioned separately and independently, and were corroborated by Panikpah, the father of one of them (I-took-a-shoo), who was personally familiar with the first third and the last third of their journey, and who said that the route for the remaining third, as shown by them, was as described to him by his son after his return with Dr. Cook.

Notes of their statements were taken by several of us, and no one of us has any doubt that they told the truth. Their testimony was unshaken by cross-examination, was corroborated by other men in the tribe, and was elicited neither by threats nor promises, the two boys and their father talking of their journey and their experiences in the same way that they would talk of any hunting trip.

To go more into details: One of the boys was called in, and, with a chart on the table before him, was asked to show where he had gone with Dr. Cook. This he did, pointing out with his finger on the map, but not making any marks upon it.

As he went out, the other boy came in and was asked to show where he had gone with Dr. Cook. This he did, also without making any marks, and indicated the same route and the same details as did the first boy.

When he was through, Panikpah, the father of I-took-a-shoo, a very intelligent man, who was in the party of Eskimos that came back from Dr. Cook from the northern end of Nauyas Strait, who is familiar as a hunter with the Jones Sound region, and who has been in Commander Peary's various expeditions for some fifteen years, came in and indicated the same localities and details as the two boys.

Then the first boy was brought in again, and with a pencil he traced on the map their route, members of our party writing upon the chart where, according to the boy's statement, they had killed deer, bear, some of their dogs, seal, walrus and musk-oxen.

The second boy was then called in and the two went over the chart together, the second boy suggesting some changes as noted hereafter.

Finally, Panikpah, the father, was again called in to verify details of the portions of the route with which he was personally familiar.

The bulk of the boys' testimony was not taken by Commander Peary, nor in his presence, a fact that obviates any possible claim that they were biased by him.

Certain questions on independent lines from the direct narrative of the Eskimo boys were suggested by Commander Peary to some of us, and were put by us to the Eskimo boys.

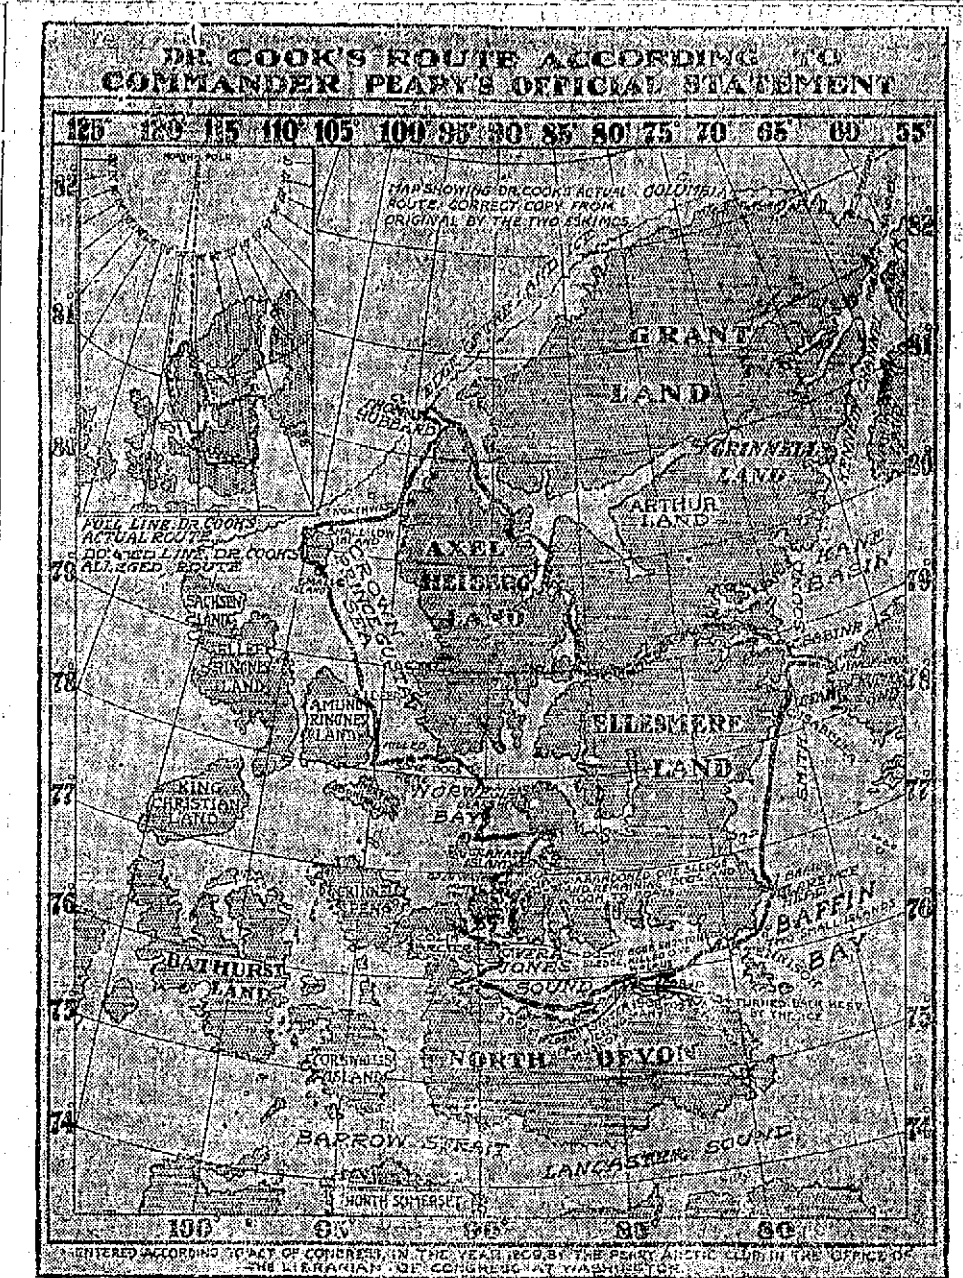

Still later, Commander Peary asked the Eskimo boys two or three casual questions on minor points that had occurred to him.

During the taking of this testimony, it developed that Dr. Cook had told these boys, as he told Mr. Whitney and Billy Pritchard, the cabin boy, that they must not tell Commander Peary or any of us anything about their journey, and the boys stated Dr. Cook had threatened them if they should tell anything.

The narrative of these Eskimos is as follows:

They, with Dr. Cook, Francke and nine other Eskimos, left Anorok, crossed Smith's Sound to Cape Sabine, slept in Commander Peary's old house in Payer Harbor, then went through Rice Strait to Buchanan Bay. After a few marches Francke and three Eskimos returned to Anorok.

Dr. Cook, with the others, then proceeded up Flogler Bay, a branch of Buchanan Bay, and crossed Ellesmere

The accompanying map is reproduced exactly from the original submitted by Commander Peary with his official statement by which he hopes to prove that Dr. Frederick A. Cook never reached the north pole. The map purports to have been traced out in the presence of the two Eskimos who were with Dr. Cook and, according to Peary, is based upon their actual statements as to Cook's entire journey. The dotted lines in the small map in the upper left hand corner is the route which Dr. Cook says he took on his journey to and from the pole after leaving Cape Thomas Hubbard. The irregular line extending northeast from Isachsen Land is the edge of the land ice, beyond which, Peary declares, Dr. Cook did not venture.

Land through the valley past at the head of Flogler Bay, indicated by Commander Peary in 1908, and utilized by Sverdrup in 1899, to the head of Sverdrup's "Bay Flood" on the west side of Ellesmere Land.

Their route then lay out through this flood, thence north through Sverdrup's "Heuerka Sound" and Nansen Strait.

On their way they killed musk-oxen and bear, and made caches, arriving eventually at a point on the west side of Nauyas Strait (shore of Axel Heiberg Land of Sverdrup), south of Cape Thomas Hubbard.

A cache was formed here and the four Eskimos did not go beyond this point. Two others, Koolooteegwah and Iughito, went on one more march with Dr. Cook and the two boys, helped to build the snow igloo, then returned without sleeping.

(These two Eskimos brought back a letter from Dr. Cook to Francke, dated the 17th of March. The two men rejoined the other four men who had been left behind, and the six returned to Anorok, arriving May 7th. This information was obtained not from the two Eskimo boys, but from the six men who returned and from Francke himself, and was known to us in the summer of 1908, when the Roosevelt first arrived at Etah. The information is inserted here as supplementary to the narrative of the two boys.)

After sleeping at the camp where the last two Eskimos turned back, Dr. Cook and the two boys went in a northerly or northwesterly direction with two sledges and twenty odd dogs, one more march, when they encountered rough ice and a lead of open water. They did not enter this rough lead, but crossed the lead, but turned westward or southwestward a short distance and returned to Heiberg Land at a point west of where they had left the cache and where the four men had turned back.

There they remained four or five sleeps, and during that time I-took-a-shoo went back to the cache and got his gun which he had left there, and a few items of supplies.

When asked why only a few supplies were taken from the cache, the boys replied that only a small amount of provisions had been used in the few days since they left the cache, and that their sledges still had all they could carry, so that they could not take more.

After being informed of the boys' narrative thus far, Commander Peary suggested a series of questions to be put to the boys in regard to this trip from the land out and back to it.

These questions and answers were as follows:

Did they cross many open leads or much open water during this time? Ans. None.

Did they make any caches out on the ice? Ans. No.

Did they kill any bear or seal while out on the ice north of Cape Thomas Hubbard? Ans. No.

Did they kill or lose any of their dogs while out on the ice? Ans. No.

With how many sledges did they start? Ans. Two.

How many dogs did they have? Ans. Did not remember exactly, but something over twenty.

How many sledges did they have when they got back to land? Ans. Two.

Did they have any provisions left on their sledges when they came back to land? Ans. Yes; the sledges still had about all they could carry, so they were able to take but a few things from the cache.

From here they then went southwest along the northwest coast of Heiberg Land to a point indicated on the map (Sverdrup's Cape Northwest).

From here they went west across the ice, which was level and covered with snow, offering good going, to a low island which they had seen from the shore of Heiberg Land, at Cape Northwest. On this island they camped for one sleep.

The size and position of this island, as drawn by the first boy, was criticized by the second boy as being too large and too far to the west, the second boy calling the attention of the first to the fact that the position of the island was more nearly in line with the point where they had left Heiberg Land (Cape Northwest) and the channel between Amund-Ringnes Land and Ellers Ringnes Land.

This criticism and correction was accepted by the first boy, who started to change the position of the island, but was stopped, as Commander Peary had given instructions that no changes or erasures were to be made in the route as drawn by the Eskimos on the chart.

From this island they could see two lands beyond (Sverdrup's Ringnes Land and Amund Ringnes Land).

From the island they journeyed toward the left hand one of these two lands (Amund Ringnes Land), passing a small island which they did not visit.

Arriving at the shore of Amund Ringnes Land, the Eskimos killed a bear as indicated on the chart.

The above indicated portion of the statement of the Eskimo boys covers the period of time in which Dr. Cook claims to have gone to the Pole and back, and the entire time during which he could possibly have made any attempts to go to it.

The answers of the Eskimo boys to Commander Peary's series of independent questions, showing that they killed no game, made no caches, lost no dogs, and returned to the land with loaded sledges, makes their attainment of the Pole on the trip North of Cape Thomas Hubbard a physical and mathematical impossibility, as it would demand the subsistence of three men and over twenty dogs during a journey of ten hundred and forty geographical miles on less than two sledge loads of supplies.

If it is suggested that perhaps Dr. Cook got mixed and that he reached the Pole, or thought he did, between the time of leaving the northwest coast of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest, and his arrival at Ringnes Land, where they killed the deer, we must then add to the date of Dr. Cook's letter of March 17th, at or near Cape Thomas Hubbard, the subsequent four or five sleeps at that point, and the number of days required to march from Cape Thomas Hubbard to Cape Northwest (a distance of some sixty nautical miles), which would advance his date of departure from the land to at least the 25th of March, and he pro-pared to accept the claim that Dr. Cook went from Cape Northwest (about latitude eighty and a half degrees North) to the Pole, a distance of five hundred and seventy geographical miles, in twenty-seven days.

After killing the deer they then traveled south along the east side of Ringnes Land to the point indicated on the chart, where they killed another deer. They then went east across the south part of Crown Prince Gustav Sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down through Norwegian Bay, where they secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of their dogs, to the east side of Graham Island; then eastward to the little bay marked "Eld's Flood" on Sverdrup's chart; then southwest to Sverdrup's Gate and Sverdrup's Peninsula.

Here for the first time during the entire journey, except as already noted off Cape Thomas H. Hubbard, they encountered open water. On this point the boys were clear, emphatic, and unshakable. They spent a good deal of time in this region, and finally abandoned their dogs and one sledge, took to their boat, crossed Sverdrup's Gate to North Kent, up into Norfolk Inlet, then back along the north coast of Colin Archer Peninsula to Cape Vera, where they obtained fresh elder duck eggs. Here they cut the remaining sledge off, that is shortened it, as it was awkward to transport with the boat, and near here they killed a walrus.

The statement in regard to the fresh elder duck eggs permits the approximate determination of the date at this time as about the first of July. (This statement also serves, it indeed anything more than the inherent straightforwardness and detail of their narrative were needed, to substantiate the accuracy and truthfulness of the boys' statement. This locality of Cape Vera is mentioned in Sverdrup's narrative as the place where during his stay in that region he obtained elder ducks' eggs.)

From Cape Vera they went on down into the southwest angle of Jones Sound, where they killed a seal; thence east along the south coast of the Sound, killing three bears at the point noted on the map, to the peninsula known as Cape Sparbo on the map, about midway on the south side of Jones Sound. Here they killed some musk-oxen and, continuing east, killed four more at the place indicated on the chart, and were finally stopped by the pack ice at the mouth of Jones Sound. From here they turned back to Cape Sparbo, where they wintered and killed many musk-oxen.

After the sun returned in 1909 they started, pushing their sledge across Jones Sound to Cape Tennyson; thence along the coast to Clarence Head, passing inside of two small islands not shown on the chart, but drawn on it by the boys, where they killed a bear; thence across the broad light-in-the-cone to Cadogan Ford; thence around Cape Isabella and up to Commander Peary's old house in Payer Harbor near Cape Sabine, where they found a seal cached for them by Panikpah, I-took-a-shoo's father. From here they crossed Smith Sound on the ice, arriving at Anorok.

Correcting Bad Habits Won't Do

To cure a torpid and inactive liver, more is required than the mere correction of bad habits. You change your diet, reform your manner of living, but unless you assist Nature your efforts won't be a success.

When the liver and bowels are acting improperly, something must be done to put them in condition again. There is lack of tone in the liver action as well as in the bowels. You feel depressed and unfit for work, endurance and responsibility. Smith's Pineapple and Nutmeg Pills impart tone to a tired liver, give the push from behind strength to torpid muscles. They stimulate the circulation, and make the liver active and the bowels regular. We have thousands of letters, telling of the wonderful results of using these pills. Here are a few words from one of our correspondents:

Mrs. M. F. Anscom, of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., writes: "Your pills are the best I have ever used. Several of my friends are taking them. They are easy to use and taste good. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills."

BITS OF SPORT

The big sporting event of this week is the Ketchell-Johnson fight at San Francisco on Saturday. The odds are against the white man, for he has an awful handicap in weight, and in fact everything to give Johnson. The betting is that Ketchell will go the limit, but if he does he will be some used up. Johnson, who has exhausted his sparring partners, issued a challenge to all comers, and on Tuesday he was knocked out by a man named "Gunboat Smith." It was after they had exchanged wallops that Smith broke from a clinch and a wicked swing caught the colored man on the jaw and he went down and out for a few minutes. The bout was brought to a close, and it is not known if "Gunboat Smith" will hereafter be on the sparring staff.

The crew of the battleship New Hampshire are sore over the fact that while the international fleet was in New York they were unable to get a match for young Rector, who claims the welter weight championship of the fleet. The New Hampshire boys knew that they had a prize package in Rector, and they were prepared for a great cleanup, but a sporting writer in a New York paper recognized young Rector as a young fellow who had a splendid ring record in New York, and he gave the snap away. The result was that all of the welter weights were ring shy of Rector and there was nothing doing.

The receipts of the world's championship baseball games played already exceeded all previous figures and although the players will not share in the future receipts, the remaining games are expected to swell the sum to unheard-of figures. Under the rule the players share in the first four games only, and after the extra games necessary, go to the two teams, and a ten percent raffle to the commission. A small estimate will be that each player will get over a thousand dollars for the series. In addition to this they will get a bonus from their team owners.

The high school football team will play Rochester high on Saturday at Rochester, and from all indications it should be a win for the local team. They are to practice this week, and after a week's layoff will be in fine condition for their future games. Last Saturday several of the teams just to keep in practice, played with the Kittery team, and the practice they got will do them good. If they can execute the forward pass as I saw them use it Saturday with a scrub team, they should be able to make effective use of it with their regular lineup.

This has been a great week for golf at the Country Club at Brookline and over the new course it has been golf that has attracted a large field. This is especially so of the play of Monday and Tuesday, when the professionals and amateurs contended in medal and match play. The list of professionals was about as large as the open tournament, and they played great golf. Thursday and Friday there will be a handicap competition open for amateurs and several from the local Country Club have been entered.

It is a merry battle between Ty Cobb and Hans Wagner as to who will show up the better batting average for the series. Wagner has it all over Cobb so far, but there are still at least two more games to be played. Cobb is playing wonderful baseball.

The New Hampshire and Wisconsin are to have football teams among the crew, and with the team in the barracks some lively games should be seen.

TO BUILD THE ARKANSAS

Contract is Let to New York Shipbuilding Company

Washington, Oct. 12.—Secretary Meyer has signed the contract with the New York Shipbuilding company for the construction of the dreadnought battleship, Arkansas. As heretofore announced the William Champ & Sons company is to build the other dreadnought, the Wyoming, authorized by the last congress. With these two monster war vessels on the ways, the navy department will have under construction seven battleships in all, the Arkansas, Wyoming, South Carolina, Delaware, North Dakota, Florida, and Utah. In addition there are under way several colliers, twenty torpedo boat destroyers and sixteen submarines.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Moses is invited to make a visit with her nephew and wife Mr. and Mrs. Heald of Stoneham, Mass. Later on, her daughter, Mrs. P. G. Hills comes for her to take her to New York to make her home with them. They hope she will be able to travel as far and be happy.

POLICE COURT

The only case to be heard in police court of today was that of Philip J. Chrisanson and Tony Carrea who were charged jointly with fighting.

The row occurred on Vaughan street near Hanover street and was a lively combat while it lasted. It went so far that Tony took a club for defence and he planted a beautiful trademark on the back of Philip's coco that looked like the bulls-eye of a dark lantern. The testimony brought the fact that Chrisanson caused the trouble and the court handed him a little card marked $3.00 and costs of $6.00 and allowed Tony to navigate to the free zone.

MARINES NOT BEFORE COURT

Navy Prison Authorities Delay in Turning Them over to State

The three marines, who came over to this city on Saturday night to search for escaped prisoners from the naval prison, should have been up in the civil courts today to answer to the charge of intent to kill, when they shot at Russell Badger early on Sunday morning.

However, the men did not appear, as the government of the yard could not at this time see the way clear to release these men to the civil authorities and they are acting under the rules covering such cases.

Before this wild west aggregation is turned over to the local police the civil writs issued for the arrest of these men must go through the hands of the superior officers at the navy yard who, with an explanation, will forward the same to the navy department at Washington for necessary action.

The police are certain that the men will be brought over to the municipal court where the case has been postponed pending a reply to the correspondence between the officers of Portsmouth yard and the head of the navy.

SWIFT REPORT

Will Not be Detrimental to Portsmouth

The Boston Transcript is usually accurate, but, like many others, has been doing some wild guessing on the report of the Swift board. Over the signature of "W. E. B." in the Washington correspondence last week Wednesday, stated that the board had among other things, recommended the retention of only one navy yard on the New England coast and the abandonment of the Portsmouth yard.

The Herald is able to state positively that the report contains no such recommendation and will not be detrimental to the interests of the great Portsmouth naval station.

The Autopiano for United States Flagship Chicago.

Permit me to express my endorsement of the wonderful Autopiano purchased from you some time ago. The tone and durability are most commendable. The interior player is almost human in its touch, and very simple to operate, and enables any of the men who are unable to play manually, to render the most difficult compositions in an artistic manner. I cannot speak too highly of the really wonderful and artistic AUTOPIANO, and to my mind it far surpasses any other similar instrument.

building is a permanent investment because it defies the hand of time. It is frost and moisture proof, cannot burn or attract heat, and requires not paint lathing or repairs. The first cost is the only cost, once erected it lasts forever.
